HONORED CITIZEN CALLED TO HEAVENLY REWARD

DR. SAMUEL B. CALDWELL, S. R., PASSED AWAY AT 8:30 O'CLOCK LAST EVENING AT THE FAMILY RESIDENCE IN ARCADIA, AFTER A STEADY DECLINE FOR MANY MONTHS PAST WITH GENERAL DEBILITY PRODUCED BY ADVANCED AGE—HAD BEEN PROMINENTLY IDENTIFIED WITH PADUCAH SINCE THE CITY WAS A SMALL VILLAGE, AND WENT TO HIS GRAVE AFTER AN HONORABLE AND SUCCESSFUL CAREER.

Dr. Samuel B. Caldwell, one of Paducah's most prominent and best known men, last evening at 8:30 o'clock breathed his last at the family residence, just outside the corporate limits in the Arcadia suburb, and word of his dissolution flashed over the city from whence came many expressions of deep regret and sadness, as he was a man held high by everybody.

For many months past Dr. Caldwell had been failing in health, and at periods would take to his bed, but recuperating his strength would again be at his office. His ailment was through infirmities caused by advanced age, and though up at times he slowly grew worse and was only a few days ago in the city for the last time. Weakness causing him to repair to his couch, he gradually grew worse until called to his reward by the Grim Reaper.

The deceased had resided in this city for many years and was prominently identified with commercial and social growth. He was born November 2, 1824 in Henry county, Tenn., therefore was in his eighty-third year when the end came. He was one of eight children born to John L. and Myra Morgan Caldwell, who were natives of South and North Carolina respectively, and had moved from the Carolinas with their respective families in 1814 and located in Logan county, Tenn. Several years thereafter John L. and Myra Caldwell took up abode in Henry county, and in 1825 moved from that place to Calloway county, Ky., where they remained for nine years. The family then came to McCracken county which has been their residence ever since.

On growing to manhood Samuel B. Caldwell commenced the study of medicine under Dr. Van Zandt of St. Louis, Mo., and afterward took a course of lectures at the Missouri University. Mr. Caldwell suffered at the time from a tendency to blindness, and had found no relief until the services of Dr. Van Zandt were enlisted. He thereafter made a specialty of the eye himself, and after a few years' stay at St. Louis returned to Paducah and practiced his profession for quite a while, but finally drifted into the general practice of medicine which he continued for fifteen years. He had studied surveying also in early life, and previous to practicing medicine was engaged in laying out towns and lands in Texas and elsewhere, and has served efficiently and faithfully as surveyor of McCracken county for a number of terms.

For the past thirty years Dr. Caldwell devoted himself mostly to real estate business and a massed wealth through this medium, as he controls vast tracts of land in Texas, other outside places and in this county. He was at the head of the West End Improvement company which years ago divided up into city lots all the territory now lying between Fountain avenue and Arcadia, and sold it off to good residents.

Dr. Caldwell was interested in a number of mining and land propositions, and in addition to his private business handled the mammoth Norton estate in this end of Kentucky, it being one of much value.

Nearly half a century since Dr. Caldwell was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth J. Napier, daughter of Hon. John Napier of Casey county, Ky., the latter having represented his county in the state legislature for several terms and was a leading man of prominence. To this union there was born four children, only two of whom survive, Attorney Samuel B. Caldwell, Jr., and Mrs. Mary B. Malory, both of this city, the latter being the wife of the Paducah grain and implement dealer, the two other children died some years ago, they being Reuben Dow Caldwell and James H. Caldwell was preceded to the grave by his wife by a number of years.

The deceased was prominently identified with the growth of Paducah from its infancy, as when he first came here the new thriving city was of only a few hundred population. He was a public spirited citizen who always lent his talent and means for advancement of the community, while from a charitable standpoint he was an honor to Paducah as he was ever doing good for his fellowman.

Of recent years, although, ever active, he has been leading a retired life to the extent that he merely looked after his vast interests over the country. He was a quiet, unassuming gentleman, always had a kind word and uplifting hand for all, and will be greatly missed by the people of Paducah. He was a consistent Christian and regular attendant at the First Presbyterian church as long as his health would permit.

As yet no arrangements have been made for the funeral ceremonies that will be held sometime tomorrow.

BODY OF BABY WAS FOUND

LANDED ON END OF BRIDGE PLANK IN BEING THROWN AWAY.

Young Couple Noticed to Pass That Way Few Moments Before and Investigation is Now on.

Sanitary Inspector R. F. Barnett of Clements street, was walking across the Fourth street Island creek bridge at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, when he espied the dead body of a boy baby lying on the end of the plank in the bridge floor, the end projecting out beyond the side railing. He picked it up and took the corpse to his home, where it was afterwards turned over to Coroner Frank Eaker, who will bury it at the county cemetery.

The coroner is looking into the matter and finds from a negro boy that the latter noticed a boy and girl, each apparently 18 years old, go across the bridge shortly before the find, the girl leaning heavily on the boy's arm, as if in bodily anguish. They are suspected and the coroner is trying to learn who they are as indications point to their throwing the body in attempting to pitch it into the creek below, but it landed on the projecting edge.

The corpse seems to have been devoid of life only a short while when found. The belief is some couple was trying to rid themselves of evidence of shame.

THE NIGHT IS FAR SPENT

MRS. CARRIE LEHMAN GIVES
LAST LECTURE THIS EVENING.

Evangelist W. J. Hudspeth Will Preach at Tenth Street Christian Church—Other Church News.

All who missed hearing Mrs. Lehmann at the city hall last evening, missed a rare treat. In her portrayal of some of her personal experiences with the lower world, a depth of tragedy was revealed that is not often seen off the dramatic stage.

Her voice is a marvel of sweetness and purity, while her language is as chaste as "the white, white rose," though she may be describing an incident of the deepest dye. No matter what she says nor what the occasion there is ever present, the evidence of a deep religious faith and the most sacred consecration to the service of the Master.

This afternoon at half past two o'clock, Mrs. Lehmann will speak at the county courthouse and will take for her subject, "The Night Is Far Spent."

Building Society.
At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the Church Building society of the First Presbyterian church meets at the pastor's study. The lesson is the XVII. chapter of St. John.

Christian Evangelist.
Evangelist W. J. Hudspeth of Hopkinsville, arrived here yesterday and this morning will preach at the Tenth street Christian church, while tonight he will assist in opening the projected meeting to be started at the Mechanicsburg Christian church.

Home Mission Society.
The Woman's Home Mission Society of the Trimble Street Methodist Church will meet Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. A. M. Gentry 1002 Trimble street.

city was placed under complete guard is conclusive proof that the claims of the authorities that they would protect the warehouses here in case of an attempted raid.

The men on duty last night were all heavily armed, many with high-power rifles to say nothing of shot-guns, and a warm reception would have been given the raiders had they shown up.

TWO STEAMBOAT NEGROES HAD FIGHT ABOARD THE STEAMER KENTUCKY

Mr. James Ferriman Had Skiff Stolen
From Seven Mile Island—
Police News.

The hundreds of shoppers down in the business section of the city last night were thrown into excitement by a lively chase between Officers Johnson and Cross and some unknown white man who had insulted one of the girl waiters at White-side's restaurant on Broadway, and then knocked down a negro waiter. It was a fleet-footed race and the crowds surged back to get officers and the pursued by in their lively scrimmage. The man finally got away.

The unknown went into the restaurant, and when one of the girls approached to take his order, he insulted her. She withdrew and a darkey started to wait on him, when the stranger knocked the latter down and slowly walked out the door. He did not seem to be intoxicated, and when Officers Cross and Johnson came along the unknown was pointed out to them while he stood at Third and Broadway. The patrolmen approached the man, but he quickly took to his heels and raced up South Third street with the officers right after him. Through crowds they darted, here and there, turning into Kentucky avenue, then on up to Fourth past the city hall. The police were gaining on the man when he shot over the fence of the old Dr. Milam home on South Fourth just beyond the hall, and disappeared in the darkness. A search around the premises was made, but he could not be located. It is not known who the man was or what prompted him to his viciousness.

Steamboat Scrap.
Will Henderson and Otway Thompson, colored, got into a fight aboard the steamer Kentucky at the wharf last night, and were arrested by Officers Johnson and Cross. The judge let Thompson plead guilty and pay a fine of $5 so he could leave on his boat, the Kentucky, he being employed as a roustabout aboard her. Henderson works on another steamer and was locked up. They fell out over a quarter one borrowed from the other.

Skiff Stolen.
Mr. James Ferriman of Grand Rivers was here yesterday and asked the police to keep a lookout for a large scow or skiff that was stolen Friday night from the Seven Mile Island, which he owns, and which is in the Tennessee river near Grand Rivers.

Jones' Red Jersey Gone.
Farmer Jones of the Pool road, several miles from town, notified the police yesterday that his red jersey cow was gone, and he does not know whether it was stolen or roamed away.

Children Deserted.
J. C. Beatty was warranted yesterday on the charge of deserting his wife and children. The accusation is that of "non-support of his children" who are small tots.

TRAINS RESUMED.
The Washout at Grantsburg Has Been Repaired.

The trains resumed yesterday on the St. Louis division out of this city by way of Brookport, as the washout has been repaired near Grantsburg where it occurred several days ago. The noon train got out on time yesterday, but the incoming 3 p. m. train did not get in until several hours later. Traffic is now on at the schedule hours.

BAILEY GOT FOUR SLASHES

THROAT WOUND NEEDED SIX-TEEN STITCHES TO CLOSE IT.

Injured Man Claims He Was Assaulted and Cut by John Bulgar and A Fellow Named Farrell.

J. W. Bailey, a horseshoer, was badly cut last night during a fight he claims was forced on him at First and Broadway by John Bulgar and a young fellow named Farrell about 11:30 o'clock. Bailey was slashed in the back of the head, twice slightly on the back of the neck, while his throat was laid open underneath the chin, but the jugular vein missed. It took sixteen stitches for City Physician Harry Williamson and Dr. R. E. Hearne to close the gaping wound, which bled copiously.

Bailey works for the Ballowe blacksmithing shop on Jefferson between Third and Fourth streets and says he, Bulgar and Farrell were shaking the dice box for drinks and cigars in a saloon, when they fell out with each other. Trouble arose and Bailey charges that the other two assaulted him in front of the grogshop at First and Broadway. The blacksmith tried to get away from the two others, who followed him up and he received the several mentioned cuts.

Bailey was taken to the City Hall where the physicians dressed his injuries about midnight. Warrants were then issued for Bulgar and George Farrell, the latter of whom was arrested, but denies being in the trouble. If it is not he, the police think it must be Oscar Farrell. The one in charge is being held for investigation. Bulgar has not been captured.

SKATER'S ARM WAS BROKEN

RICHARD SCOTT FELL FROM STEPS OF CHURCH
YESTERDAY.

Colonel Richard Geagan Able to be
Upon the Streets Yesterday—
Other Ailing.

Richard Scott, the grandson of Mrs. M. K. Scott of North Fourth, broke his right arm near the wrist yesterday afternoon while on roller skates at Seventh and Broadway. The little fellow had climbed up on the stone steps of the Broadway Methodist church when his feet flew from under him and he fell with force sufficient to fracture the bone.

Out on Streets.
Colonel Richard Geagan was able to be out on the streets yesterday for the first time since being overcome with a stroke of paralysis nearly two weeks since. The affliction affects his tongue only, and although rapidly recovering his power of speech, he cannot speak as audibly as before being overcome. The doctors think it will be a matter of only a week or two until he has full possession of this power again.

About Recovered.
Miss Eleanor Trezevant has about recovered from her several months' attack of sickness and is able to be out attending to her business.

Will Get Well.
Lew's Cole will get well at the railroad hospital, as he is getting better every day and the surgeons now believe his recovery will result. His head was badly mashed by getting caught between the heavy frame cab and boiler of the locomotive engine on which the cab was being placed at the I. C. shops here.

Mexican War Veteran.
Mr. Wash Roundtree, the venerable citizen of Sharpe, Marshall county, is very low with heart trouble. Dr. J. W. Pendley being called down yesterday to see him. The latter returned last night.

Mr. Roundtree is one of the few survivors of the Mexican war, he

EXTERIOR PLANS COMPLETED FOR THE BANK

PRESIDENT ROBERT REEVES RECEIVED THEM FROM ARCHITECT.

DRAUGHTSMAN NOW ON THE INSIDE DRAWINGS

R. D. GARRETT RESIGNED AS
EXAMINER OF KENTUCKY
NATIONAL BANKS.

Stockholders of Paducah Banks Meet
Tuesday to Elect Directors for 1907.

President Robert L. Reeves of the First National bank has received from the St. Louis architect the finished plans showing the exterior of the new ten-story structure the financial institution will construct at Third and Broadway, where the present old buildings of the bank stand. The drawings show the outside of the prospective building, and evidences a structure very handsome indeed. The floor plans and inside drawings are now being gotten up by the architects. It will take some weeks to complete these and the specifications, when they will then be submitted to the contractors and figures gotten upon the probable cost, preparatory to starting operations when spring opens.

President Reeves and the other officials have not yet decided where they will maintain headquarters while the new structure is displacing the old building. They will get a centrally located place to do business in until they can occupy the new home.

Bank Examiner.
The bankers of Paducah regret to learn of the resignation of R. D. Garrett of Princeton, as national bank examiner for the state of Kentucky. He has made a fine examiner and is highly esteemed by the Paducah financiers, who found him an expert and thorough official. Mr. Garrett tendered his resignation December 15 to the comptroller of currency at Washington, D. C., effective last Tuesday.

Mr. Garrett has served as bank examiner for seven years, having been appointed to the responsible position January 30, 1899. During this time eight delinquencies were uncovered by him. In every instance he was the first to discover the irregularities, two of them being particularly important cases and attracting widespread attention, which is yet fresh in the minds of the people, especially the Somerset, Louisville and Tallahoma, Tenn., cases.

For the past year or more, especially the past several months, Mr. Garrett has suffered a great deal with his eyes, and not being able to receive permanent relief, he deemed it best and proper to retire from the service, hence his resignation.

He is perhaps one of the best known bank men in the state, having been identified with the banking business since early manhood.

Mr. Garrett will take a six month vacation before engaging in business, thereby giving his eyes time to recover from the strain of the past severe service.

Annual Elections.
The stockholders of the Paducah banks meet Tuesday to elect directors, and then the latter gather Wednesday to name the officers that serve during this year. The elections are held by all the banks except the Citizens Savings, which does not do this until next July.

having attained the age of eighty years. He is well known all over this section of the country.

Peculiar Case.
Leon Threlkeld, the 14-year-old son of the former jailer of Livingston county, is in the city visiting Mr. W. L. Wilkerson of North Fourth street, and Friday during the night his jaw swelled to immense size, while his nose bled copiously without cause. Physicians staunch the flow in about one hour. Yesterday he was weak from loss of blood. It is a peculiar case, once before attacking him in this unusual manner.

SISTER OF PADUCAHANS

MRS. KATE WHEELDON DIED
AT CARROLLTON, KY.,
YESTERDAY.

Mrs. L. B. Ragan's Sister, Died at Lexington, Ky.—Mother of Misses Kirk Dead.

At 5 o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. Kate Wheelon of Carrollton, Ky., died after a brief sickness. She was the sister of Messrs. Richard and Harry Clements, the book store men of Paducah whose place of business was closed yesterday for this reason.

Mr. Wheelon was 35 years old and leaves her husband, J. D. Wheelon, the Carrollton merchant, and five children. Her sole sister is Mrs. Salie Brown of Wadesboro, Ky.

Mr. Harry Clements went up yesterday to attend the funeral.

Other Deaths.
Mrs. L. B. Ragan of Trimble street yesterday received a message saying that the night before her sister, Mrs. James Dumaway, died at Lexington, Ky., after a month's illness with complicated diseases.

Mrs. W. L. Kirk died in Louisville Friday night as result of an operation for stomach trouble. She was 60 years old, and mother of Misses Margaret and Suzanne Kirk, who formerly taught school in Paducah, and Mr. E. B. Kirk, formerly with the Gregory Vinegar works of here,

A WARM RECEPTION

WAS ARRANGED FOR THE
"NIGHT RIDERS" AT HOPTOWN.

Two Hundred Men Armed With High Power Rifles Guarded the Town.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 5.—Hopkinsville spent last night under guard of probably 200 armed men as a result of telephone message received by Mayor Meacham at 8 o'clock from Princeton, that it had leaked out there that the night raiders, who destroyed two tobacco warehouses in the Caldwell county capital, had their plans all made and everything in readiness for a visit to this city.

The message came from what was regarded a reliable source, and as soon as it was received the city and county officials made preparations to meet the raiders should they come. Extra policemen were put on guard, a sheriff's posse was organized, the local military company was gotten together and held in readiness, and a number of citizens volunteered their services.

Every road leading into the city was guarded and extra guards were placed on duty at every tobacco warehouse.

The night passed, however, without the raiders putting in their appearance. The promptness with which the

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

City Judge Marries.

Unusual interest is attached to the announcement that Miss Irma Millen of Bakers Station, Ky., and Judge David A. Cross of this city will be united in marriage at 2 o'clock the afternoon of Wednesday, January 30, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baker. The happy pair will leave for Illinois on a short bridal tour after the ceremony, coming to Paducah the following Monday, the judge finding it impossible to leave his court for a longer period of time.

When the judge announced his coming abandonment of bachelorhood yesterday, he was the center of congratulations from everybody, who showed on him their most hearty wishes for the future happiness of himself and handsome bride, who will be warmly welcomed here.

Miss Millen is a beautiful and sweet young woman well known in this end of the state. She is the daughter of Mr. Marion Millen of near Hampton, Livingston county, but has been residing at Bakers Station for quite a while. She has many Paducah friends who anxiously await her arrival to make this city her home.

Judge Cross is the police court judge of this city, and a man well known to the public, where he stands high and is held in close estimation. He is a self-made man who now occupies one of the most responsible and honorable positions in the municipal government, and his exceeding popularity is attested by the overwhelming results in his favor during the primary and general election last year. He is a genial man, pleasing to everybody, and is making an excellent record upon the bench.

The judge has not yet decided where they will take up their home here in the city.

Davis-Bringham.

The evening of January 29 two of the city's most prominent young people will be united in the holy bonds of wedlock, and publication of this fact the past week was the source of much happiness and cause for profuse congratulation from all. The happy pair are Miss Martha Stewart Davis and Mr. Edward Huling Bringham, announcement of their approaching union being made by the bride's mother, Mrs. Mildred Fowler Davis.

No couple is held in higher estimation or greater respect than this well known pair, who are numbered among the most ultra-popular of the community. The bride is a most beautiful girl, possessed of grace and many attributes forming an ideal Kentucky girl. She is the granddaughter of the late Captain Joe Fowler, Paducah's veteran steamboatman during life. Mr. Bringham is the Broadway shoe merchant of the George Rock firm, a substantial young business man of energy and integrity, well known to all for his many fine and manly qualities.

Details for the nuptials will be published latter.

Dallam-Owsley.

Miss Elizabeth Dallam and Dr. Harvey Owsley of St. Louis were married last Wednesday at Belleville, Ill., news of which nuptials brought much joy to friends in Paducah, where the groom was formerly connected with the Richard Walker drug store, and medical department of the railroad hospital. His bride is a former Mayfield girl who often visited Miss Mae Davis of North Fifth.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat of Thursday gives the only details received: Dr. Harvey B. Owsley, a dentist of the western part of the city, and Miss Elizabeth W. Dallam were married yesterday afternoon at Belleville, Ill., the Rev. Gardner of the Presbyterian church of that city officiating. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Dallam, of 416 Morgan street. She formerly lived in Paducah, Ky. Dr. Owsley said last night that they went to Belleville to have a quiet wedding, in consequence of the recent death of a particular friend of the bride. The young couple will be at home to their friends at the Hamilton hotel, after January 4.

Old Year Watched Out.

At the home of Miss Martha Jones of 406 South Fourth street a party of jolly young folks indulged in a "watch party" Monday evening, the several hours being happily whiled away at different amusements, interspersed with dainty ices and cakes.

In the party were Misses Essie Blackford, Effie Jones, Jessie Parkin, Bessie Wilkerson, Ruth Baynham, Blanche Mooney, Mrs. Saxton, Mrs. Walker, Messrs. Quarles, Walker, Ettinger, Province, Jones and others.

New Year Greeted.

"Watch party" was entertained Monday evening by Misses Ruth Parker and Bertha Thompson at their home, 2126 Broadway, and a gay time had by the young devotees, who passed the evening at games, music

Mrs. Saunders Fowler captured the club prize during the card game at the meeting of The Five Hundred club Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. John S. Bleeker of North Fifth street. That for the visitor went to Miss Mary Boswell.

Visitors filled the vacant chairs of absent members, while the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Hamilton

Parks of Nashville and Mrs. Max B. Nahn of Bowling Green. A dainty luncheon was served in courses at close of the game.

Magazine Club.

The Magazine club will be the guests of Miss Minnie Ratcliffe Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. C. K. Wheeler on Kentucky avenue. Periodicals to be reported on are Literary Digest, Hubbard's Journeys' Outlook, Atlantic Monthly, North American Review and Harper's.

Sans Souci Club.

Miss Clara Thompson of South Sixth, was the hostess for the Sans Souci club meet Tuesday afternoon, it being a happy holiday affair with card tallies of a "Happy New Year," while the color of red and white prevailed in attractive decorations and dainty course luncheon.

Mrs. John W. Scott took the club gift, Mrs. Lelia Wade Lewis that for the visitor, and Miss Faith Langstaff that for the best lone hand player.

The game was followed with a reception during which punch and cake were served, there being about fifty guests in attendance.

Delphic Club.

Heroes of Spain were up for discussion Wednesday morning at the meeting of the Delphic club at the library, it being the initial gathering following the holiday and postponed from Tuesday on account of the latter date being New Year's Day.

"Bascos-Garsillasco" was reported on by Miss Mattie Fowler, while "Charles, The L." was the subject of Mrs. Birdie Campbell's paper. Mrs. Mildred Davis spoke about "Cardinal Meddoza."

The coming Tuesday the club has the following program:

The Picture Gallery of Seville.... Mrs. J. C. Flournoy
Velasquez—The Court Painter of Spain.... Mrs. George Flournoy
Murillo—The Painter of the Conception.... Miss Lowry

Matinee Musical Club.

The postponed December session of the Matinee Musical club was held Wednesday afternoon at the Eagles' Home, and proved a most charming assembly for the musical talent of the city. A Rosetti and Rossini program was rendered as follows:

Italian composers, Rossini and Rossetti.
Leader—Mrs. Wm. C. Clark.
Current events.
Vocal solo—"At Length a Brilliant Ray," (Rossini); rendered in Italian, Miss Mamie Dreyfuss.
Piano Duet—"Semeramis," (Rossini) Mrs. George B. Hart, Miss Pur-year.

Biographical Sketches—Miss Comp-ton.
Piano Solo—Selection from Stabat Mater (Rossini) Miss Mohan.
Violin solo—Selection (Rossetti)—Mr. Skelton.

"China's Musical Record and Her Lack of Development"—Miss Newell.
Vocal quartette—"Sancta Mater" from the opera Stabat Mater (Rossini) Mesdames Hart and Lewis Messrs. Bagby and Scott.

The club meets next Wednesday afternoon at the Grace church parish house.

Daughters of Confederacy.

Mrs. James Koger, president of the Daughters of the Confederacy chapter, was hostess for that body's meeting Friday afternoon when they assembled in her home on North Seventh street, and it was one of the largest gatherings ever held by the James T. Walbert camp of Con-ladies. They have been invited by federate veterans to join the latter in celebrating the anniversary of the birthday of General Robert E. Lee on January 19. Colonel Richard Barber of the veterans' camp, attended the ladies session and requested them to assist, while tomorrow night at the special session of the old soldiers they will decide in what manner to observe the occasion.

During the Friday session Mrs. Lelia Wade Lewis sang "Bonnie Blue Flag," while "The Flags of Our Nation" was spoken of by Mrs. Robert B. Phillips. Father Ryan's poem, "The Sword of Lee," was told of by Miss Anna Webb, while "Lee As a Soldier and Man" was presented by Mrs. D. G. Murrell.

A delicious luncheon was served.

The Women's Club.

The Women's club meeting of Thursday afternoon filled Grace church parish house with many people drawn out by the excellent features for this occasion, and a most delightful time was had. During the business session Mrs. John G. Miller, the recording secretary, was made chair-man of the civic department, while the corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. R. Meyers, took the recording secretaryship, and was succeeded in her place by Mrs. Eli G. Boone.

At 3 o'clock the literary session was taken up, with Mrs. Frank Parham presiding. The attractive features were the delightful readings by Miss Anna Bird Stewart of Cincinnati, who rendered selections from Bernard Shaw in a charming manner.

During the afternoon many musical and vocal pieces were presented by Mrs. David M. Flournoy, Mrs. William Clark and Mr. Richard Scott.

LEGAL BATTLE NOW ON REGARDING "DOWN WITH SIGNS"

B. WEILLE & SON, LANG BROS., CHARLES M. LEAKE AND IKE COHEN WERE ALL WARRANTED YESTERDAY ON THE CHARGE OF REFUSING TO ABIDE BY THE LAW PROHIBITING SIGNS FROM PROJECTING OUT OVER THE SIDEWALKS—THE VALIDITY OF THE MEASURE WILL BE TESTED IN THE COURTS, THE HEARING COMING UP TOMORROW BEFORE JUDGE DAVID CROSS IN THE POLICE COURT.

B. Weille & Son, Lang Bros., Charles M. Leake & Co., and Ike Cohen, were warranted yesterday on the charge of refusing to take down the signs which project over the sidewalk in front of their respective places of business. Issued of these warrants is the initial step that will result in the sign ordinance and rule being given a legal test in the court. Street Inspector Elliott yesterday got these warrants out against the four firms mentioned, and they were served by Officers Johnson and Cross. The cases come up for decision tomorrow in the police court before Judge David Cross.

The city legislative boards some months since passed an ordinance placing in the hands of the board of public works the question of regulating signs which hang over the streets and sidewalks. The board has complete control of the city thoroughfares, and issued an order to effect that no sign shall project out over the public highways, with exception of those illuminated with electricity, and the latter must be approved by the board of works and city electrician. In this way the board desires to rid the streets and sidewalks of the accumulation of thousands of signs, which are not permitted in any city the country over.

Nearly everybody has taken down their signs while others are now doing so. These four parties warranted desire to test the law ordering down the signs, and they are now given a chance. They are of the opinion that it cannot be enforced, but the city solicitor, after a most minute examination, has informed the board of public works that the measure is a legal one.

Leake's sign is in front of his printing shop on lower Broadway near Second street, while Lang's is in front of their drug store on Broadway between Second and Third, Ike Cohen's in front of his pawnshop on South Second near Broadway, and Weille's in front of their clothing house on Broadway between Fourth and Fifth streets. These are the only ones thus far expressing themselves as to carrying the matter into the courts. Warrants will be gotten out this week against the other people who have not abided by the oft-repeated order directing them to take down the signs.

From all sides can be heard expressions of people hoping the ordinance will be declared legal, this desire being spoken by hundreds who have had to take down signs, some very costly.

PROPERTY OWNERS FATE HANGS WITH THE BOARDS

THE CITY AND COUNTY SUPERVISORS, WHO DECIDE WHAT VALUATION SHALL PREVAIL ON THE PROPERTY ASSESSED FOR MUNICIPAL AND COUNTY TAX PURPOSES MEET TOMORROW—BOTH BOARDS WILL SIT FOR ABOUT TWO MONTHS AND REVISE ASSESSORS' FIGURES WHEREVER JUSTIFIABLE—RESULT OF THEIR WORK DEPENDS THE RATE OF TAXATION FOR 1907.

The county board of supervisors, and also the city board of supervisors, will tomorrow morning meet and enter in on the annual session held by them respectively. The county board assembles at their room on the second floor of the court house building, while the city board gathers at the city hall general assembly chamber.

The county supervisors are Dick Davis, A. W. Grief, Alex Williams, Jesse Childress, James Hart, Oscar Rawlinson, George Knott and Robert A. Baker. The first thing they do tomorrow is to select their chairman and clerk. County Assessor Wes Troutman then hands to the supervisors the former's book, showing what he had valued every piece of personal and real property in this city and county for county tax purposes. The supervisors go over these figures, and where they find property which they think has not been valued as high as it should be the board orders that the price be increased. It takes the supervisors about one month or five weeks to completely canvass the book. Then they send notices out to the owner of every piece of property on which they raised the valuation. The notices stipulate what the raise is, and the owner is cited to appear before the supervisors and show cause, if he has any, why the increase should not remain. It takes about two weeks to finish hearing the owners, and the board then decides whether the raises remain, and whether other property shall be decreased in valuation. The supervisors then turn the revised assessor's book into County Clerk Hiram Smedley's office, where a copy of the recapitulation is made and forwarded to the state board of equalization at Frankfort for scrutiny, and this commonwealth board passes on the question as to whether the total valuation of McCracken county property is equitable as compared with the other counties of the state.

For several years the state equalizers raised the McCracken figures by ten per cent over what they were fixed at by the county supervisors, but for the past four years the local board has valued the properties on a basis considered fair as compared with other counties, and therefore the state officials let the totals remain as fixed. As soon as the state body passes on the McCracken figures notice to that effect is given. Judge Lightfoot, showing what figures will prevail. This being settled, the fiscal court, composed of the magistrates of this city and county, then meet next April, figure out how much money it will take to run the county government this year, and then by computing this into the total assessment, the 1907 county tax rate is estimated.

The total fixed this year by Assessor Troutman is between $10,000,000 and $11,000,000, which is $10,000 or two more than the total valuation for 1906. The supervisors will raise the assessor's figure this time, hence the whole valuation may be over $11,000,000. Until this year's expenses are calculated, it cannot be told what the tax rate will be, but it is not thought it will amount to more than for 1906.

City Supervisors.

The city supervisors are James A. Glauher, Richard Holland and Eli G. Boone, and they tomorrow enter upon a two month's sitting during which time they raise the assessor's valuations wherever justifiable. The board does as the county body, has the property owners come before it and show cause, if they have any, why the increased valuations should not remain.

The meeting of the city officers are allowed to raise any property in the municipality, while for the next three annual sessions they can only make raises when improvements have been made to properties, this being in accordance with the state law as construed by the appellate court.

The city authorities cannot fix their 1907 tax rate until the municipal supervisors wind up the valuation revision.

Judge Was Thirsty.

Justice Harlan of the supreme court celebrated the golden anniversary of his wedding on December 22. Some of his friends were telling stories about the great jurist, and one of them told this:

"The justice was going to Washington on a sleeping car from Louisville. Before retiring he went into the smoking compartment to get a drink of water. There were half a dozen in the place, and a flask had been passed around and the glass used for the liquor.

"Justice Harlan took up the glass, smelled of it and turned on the smokers.

"Who," he roared, in his deep bass voice, "has had the temerity to drink whisky out of this glass?"

"I did," piped the owner of the flask, somewhat awed by the great bulk of the justice.

"Then, sir," said the justice, sternly, "where are you hiding the bottle?"

WOMAN WAS NOT CONVICTED

MRS. MARY AVERITT DISMISSED IN POLICE COURT YESTERDAY.

Until Tomorrow Was Postponed the Warrants Against Bert Robinson—Cow Cases Dismissed.

Judge David Cross yesterday morning in the police court dismissed the warrant charging Mrs. Mary Averitt with running a disorderly bawdy house at Eighth and Harris streets. Evidence showed that men went there but nothing developed the fact that debauchery and dissolution was carried on. She has an indictment outstanding against her in the circuit court, in which she is charged with the same offense.

C. N. Marcus and L. P. Sutherland were both dismissed of the warrants charging them with violating the city ordinance which prohibits cows from running at large upon the public thoroughfares.

The court continued over until tomorrow the three warrants against Bert Robinson, who is charged with whipping A. G. Marshall, throwing bricks at Adolph Thomas, threatening to shoot E. M. Burton with a rifle. There were so many charges against the lad that the witnesses could not be secured on short notice, so everything went over until tomorrow for trial.

Daughters of Revolution.

One of the largest and most entertaining gatherings by the members of Paducah chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was that conducted Friday afternoon in the apartment of Mrs. M. B. Nash, Sr., at the Sans Souci flats on North Ninth St. The residence swarmed with interested members and a highly entertaining session held with the hostess, who is vice regent for the state.

Mrs. Hubbard Wells, the outgoing regent, called the meeting to order, and then in a graceful speech presented the gavel to Mrs. Eli G. Boone, the new presiding officer who was chosen last month to serve during 1907. In a neat speech of acceptance Mrs. Boone received the gavel, which has clinging recollections very pleasant, as some years since the gavel was presented the chapter by Mrs. Sol C. Vaughan, mother of Mrs. Boone. Mrs. Vaughan had been sent a piece of wood as a gift from Independence Hall and had it made into the gavel which she presented the chapter. After Mrs. Vaughan's death a small silver memorial tablet was inserted in one side of the gift.

After "America" was sung, Mrs. Sallie Morrow read a fine paper on "The Overthrow of Tea in Boston Harbor." The session was in the nature of "A Boston Tea Party" and the "Revolutionary T" comedowns were very catchy and attractive.

During the afternoon a dainty luncheon was served the members, who then called in the regular business meeting for the first Friday in February, it being displaced by an "open session" that will be February 22, at which time Washingtonian features will prevail in memory of the Father of His Country.

THE PURE FOOD LAW

WILL PUT RECTIFIERS OUT OF BUSINESS IF ENFORCED.

Very Little Ahead for Those Who Don't Manufacture "Straight Whiskey."

Louisville, Jan. 5.—In accordance with their interpretation of the national pure food law as it affects the labeling of whiskey, Louisville rectifiers and blenders are conducting their business much the same as heretofore, although many of them admit that when the final regulations under the act are promulgated by the agricultural department, they expect practically to be put out of business. A prominent Main street rectifier said yesterday that he could see very little ahead in the business for those who were not engaged in the manufacture of "straight whiskey."

"All along," he said, "it could be observed that the commission appointed to establish whiskey standards has been opposed to the blended interests and the actions of Dr. Wiley indicate that the blenders and rectifiers may expect the most drastic regulations when the agricultural department issues its final regulations for the manufacture and sale of whiskey."

While the rectifiers and blenders say they have endeavored to comply with the pure food regulations according to their interpretation of the same, they report a marked falling off in their business and a heavy increase in the demand for the straight product.

Adulterated foods, drugs and candies practically passed out of the market with the new year, provided proper respect is given to the pure food law. It will be possible from now on, it is said, for a man who buys a piece of peach pie to know that he is getting peaches and not a mixture of starch, glucose and saccharine, and for the woman who purchases a fancifully named cereal to know that she is getting just what she pays for. The abuses to be corrected by the pure food law are numberless, and an army of inspectors working under the supervision of the department of agriculture, will be employed constantly throughout the country to spy on dealers of all sorts.

Offenses against the law are punishable by fine and imprisonment. It is made unlawful to manufacture any article of food or drug which is misbranded or adulterated. Punishment on conviction for offense against this provision is fixed at a fine not exceeding $500. For all subsequent convictions the punishment is a fine of $1000 or one year's imprisonment, or both.

It is provided in the act that dealers will be immune from punishment if they receive guarantees from manufacturers or jobbers. Such guarantees have been sent out with all shipments since January 1, and in other ways grocers, druggists, confectioners and delicatessen dealers have prepared themselves to meet the requirements of the law. As a result of the new law there will be a scarcity, if not a complete disappearance from the market, of certain brands of jam, preserves and canned goods. The law prescribes that all goods must be labeled properly.

TRACTION COMPANY'S VALUATION BOOSTED

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 5.—City Assessor Thompson of Covington has boosted the tax valuation of the Cincinnati, Newport and Covington Traction company. The company will now have to pay taxes on $1,099,000. Last year the valuation was $667,200. The Union Light, Heat and Power company is favored by the assessor in that the valuation of its property is $604,000, as against $666,150 last year. These alterations in the tax valuations result from myriad causes.

Utah, and Miss Francis Gould were visitors at the Nash session.

Entre Nous Club.

A thoroughly enjoyable afternoon was spent Friday by the Entre Nous club members with Miss Francis Terrell at her home on Kentucky avenue, the young ladies indulging in a spirited game at cards.

Miss Lillie Mae Winstead captured the club prize on a cut with Mrs. Henry Rudy, and Misses Corinne Winstead, Ethel Brooks, Marjorie Bagby and Mary Scott. It was a lovely white lace fan, while the trophy for visitor, a pack of engraved cards, went to Miss Eloise Bradshaw.

A two course luncheon was indulged in after the game by the guests, who were Mrs. Henry Rudy, Ethel Brooks, Nell Holland, Mary Scott, Lillie Mae and Corinne Winstead, Reta Hatfield, Sarah Sanders, May Owen, Marie Cobb, Letitia Powell, Mrs. Harris Rankin, Eloise Bradshaw and Monima Hopkins.

CURB ON HOTELS.

Chicago Council Passes Measure to Purge City of Vicious Hostelties.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Disreputable hotels were given a hard blow by the city council last night in the passage of a hotel license ordinance which will give the mayor and chief of police a whiphand over resorts which have caused innumerable scandals in Chicago. It is the first time in the history of an American municipality that such a measure has been passed, and although the aldermen were informed that the legality of the measure was questioned seriously the ordinance was passed by an overwhelming vote.

Several attempts were made to amend the measure and make it less strict, but the council showed on a roll call what it thought of the ordinance and the measure went through in the same shape as it was when reported out of the license committee.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of Joe A. Purchase for city jailer, subject to the action of the democratic party.

Sunday Morning, January 6, 1907.

Street Signs.

As the question of regulating street signs is attracting public attention at this time in Paducah a few remarks on the subject just now may prove timely. It often occurs that people fall into error, not intentionally, but because their investigation of a matter has not been full and complete, or that they reach a conclusion hastily.

From what we have read and heard, an impression exists in some quarters that the board of public works has exceeded its authority, but we do not think so; still if it has, we are sure that the members are as anxious as anyone to know exactly where their authority begins and ends and that it will be confined strictly between those two points, and as it is now up to the courts, the matter will soon be settled. In ordering the street signs removed the board's only object was to improve the appearance of the streets, and this result, we believe all will admit, has been accomplished.

In an interview with an ex-official in an afternoon paper is found this statement, "Ifs (board of public works) power is fixed by ordinance and statutes, but it has not the power on record to regulate signs." Without going to the charter and decisions of the courts as to the power of the board of public works, we will merely quote section 3 of an ordinance passed by the general council in September 1906, and which reads as follows:

Sec. 3. "That the Board of Public Works of the City of Paducah shall have the complete charge and control of the construction or erection of any sign or signs over and across any street, sidewalk or other public way of the City of Paducah, Kentucky, and may adopt such rules and regulations as it may see fit in the control and management thereof, and no sign shall be erected over or across any street or sidewalk or other public way of the City of Paducah until after permit so to do has been granted by said Board of Public Works."

This ordinance certainly delegates to the board of public works the power to regulate street signs.

In the matter of post signs they are worse than hanging signs for the reason that they obstruct the public highway. Our idea about the streets and sidewalks has always been that they cannot lawfully be used for any purpose other than for public travel, except where the occupancy of any part of them can be shown to benefit the general public. They were dedicated for public purposes only and no legislative body or other board has any power to permit their use for any purpose whatever, other than public or quasi-public purposes, and it has been so held by the courts when called upon to rule on the question. A citizen has no more rights on the sidewalk or street in front of his residence or place of business than any other citizen, the street and sidewalk do not belong to the property but belong to the public. If a merchant has the right to erect or maintain a sign out on the sidewalk in front of his store he also has the right to erect and maintain a sign at any other point or points in the city that he may designate. We admit that custom has done much towards fastening the belief that a man may erect signs on the public highway in front of his establishment, but when the whole question is sifted down, he possesses no real right other than that of any other citizen. Therefore, the question resolves itself down into what is best for the people as a whole, and it has been demonstrated by the experience of every city that it is best to keep the highways free of obstructions and everything else dangerous or unsightly.

The Affairs of Paducah.

The change in the general council occurs tomorrow evening, and the new members will soon discover that they have considerable work on hand. Paducah is rapidly developing into a city and in order to keep pace with it, the general council must cut loose from ideas that were good five or ten years ago and adapt itself to existing conditions with an eye single to the future. If Paducah was merely holding it own or progressing at a snail's pace, it might do to rely upon past experiences to govern, but the city is going at too rapid a pace and one must look ahead to keep up with the procession. This does not mean, however, that prudence should be thrown to the winds and expenditures undertaken out of proportion to the needs of the city.

The necessities of a municipality are just like those of a well conducted business establishment, and the ability of those who foot the bills must be considered.

Paducah is entitled to the very best government possible, and that kind of government is best obtained by a broad, liberal, yet economical policy. People do not mind paying taxes if good results are shown. Every man takes pride in his home city, but a city cannot be built in a day, nor must its people become tax ridden.

The Register is for the city owning a few nice parks, but not on the terms suggested last fall, our objections being stated at that time and they hold good with us even at this time. A moderate appropriation for parks is something that will meet with public favor at this time, and it should be of a size for a solid foundation on which to meet the coming needs of the city. Paducah itself is one great park, but it can stand a few public beauty spots scattered over the city.

In the matter of sewers, we think the third district as now outlined is a piece of folly from more than one stand point. In the first place at least ten per cent. of the property in that district is not worth the cost of the improvement, nor will it be, even after the sewers are installed, for some years to come. Another reason is that much of the property now vacant will not be built up for some years to come, yet the owners' money will be sunk in sewers that would be not a particle of use to him. The other reason is that the enormous cost is too great to saddle on the people at this time. If the plans could be changed to only take in from Thirteenth to Nineteenth from Kentucky avenue to Trimble street, and out Broadway and Jefferson streets to the city limits, that would seem to be enough to authorize for the next five years. Sewers are necessary, but of no value through fields and woods.

The street bond money is about exhausted and it would be a waste of time to undertake to vote another issue, it would be defeated. Yet Paducah has reached a point where many of its streets are worn out and must be reconstructed. The city's portion of the work must come out of the tax levy; but if there is to be no reconstruction, then the city must bear all the expense of heavy repairs or suffer the streets to become dilapidated and unsightly. Extensive improvements must be made in the sidewalks, which calls for an expense to the city at every intersecting street. In Mechanicsburg and other outlying territory petitions are rolling in for sidewalks and where they are of concrete the four corners cost the city $100. If the city heeds all petitions for sidewalks there will be something like one hundred blocks built this year.

The late heavy rains and the annoyance caused by flooded streets means that something must be done to relieve conditions and it will cost considerable to get the water to the river. The cleaning of the streets and gutters of the city has developed into a large item, and all will remember the constant complaints of last summer. The people had grounds for complaining and will keep it up until they get relief.

The collection and the disposal of garbage has assumed such proportion as to command attention, and systematic steps in that direction cannot well be postponed.

The board of public works used every reasonable exertion last year to drain the ponds and creeks through out the city, but found the work impossible in many instances with but limited funds. If there is anything in the theory of mosquitoes transmitting or transplanting fever germs, the city should cover every pond in the city or near by with coal oil or a solution to kill the pests, and the health department should prohibit rain barrels. We may never live to see a new city hall in Paducah, but that will not keep us from repeating what we have said at intervals for ten years past, and that is, the present city hall is a disgrace to Paducah. The mayors office is about as inviting as the office of a cheap hotel. The board of public works meet in a room where the occupants at times are forced to stand up, there being no room for more than six or eight chairs. The city clerk is housed in a place resembling the post office at a country store. The treasurer and auditor occupy a room so small that when there is a rush to pay taxes or licenses, the people are cheerfully invited to lean up against the wall and await their turn. The council chamber is such as one would expect to find in a country town of 1,000 inhabitants. The city engineer is found in what is styled the annex, an old brick residence built fifty years ago, and it is an imposition on the public to be required to go to such dingy quarters to transact business. The city hall, the annex and everything about them, both inside and out is cheap, shabby and wearing on the eyes. The only things about the city hall that strikes up as being in harmony with the surroundings are the city lock-up and police court room. For the purposes intended, they are good enough for that class who are responsible for them. What the city of Paducah should do is to build a new and modern city hall building and turn the present one over to the judicial department and police force. The city hall shall be on Broadway, either at Fifth, Sixth or Seventh streets.

As stated above, the incoming general council will find much to do during 1907, and the matters called to the attention of the members deserve careful and serious consideration, and favorable action thereon will meet with approval on the part of the people. The city will be in a position to set the pace if the tax supervisors or board of appraisers do their duty and make the tax dodgers come to time.

RECOGNIZE BOARD.

President Brothers Has Meeting This Week of Board of Health.

Dr. C. A. Brothers, president of the city board of health, is preparing to call that body together some evening this week for purpose of reorganizing for this year.

Several weeks ago the general council elected Dr. H. P. Sights to succeed himself on the board for three years, while C. F. Yates of Mechanicsburg was named for a three years' term, to succeed Abe Anspacher, who has moved to California. Selection of these new members makes it necessary to reorganize the body.

AMENDED PETITION.

Rehkopf Case Will Not be Taken up Until Next Thursday.

Attorneys J. S. Ross, Thomas Crice and others returned yesterday from Louisville where they went to argue before Judge Walter Evans of the United States court, the attempt being made by the American-German National bank of this city to force E. Rehkopf individually into bankruptcy. The case was not gone into because the bank lawyers filed an amendment to their original petition and in order to give Rehkopf's lawyers time to prepare to oppose the amended document, the hearing was postponed over until next Thursday, when the attorneys go back to submit the litigation to the judge.

MARKETHOUSE CONTROVERSY

JUDGE REED TAKES UP THE SUITS TOMORROW DURING COURT.

Decision Will Settle Which Board Has the Authority to Appoint the Marketmaster and Sewer Inspector.

The controversy over the marketmaster and sewerage inspector will be taken up tomorrow in the circuit court, so announced Judge Reed yesterday when he returned from Louisville where he has been for the past few days on legal business. He convenes his January term of circuit court tomorrow, and yesterday said he thought he would take up immediately the question of hearing this litigation.

The judge had agreed to hear it last Friday, but was called to Louisville and necessarily had to postpone the matter until tomorrow. It will take several hours for the lawyers to submit the matter to him, and it will probably be the middle of this week before he will have time to render his opinion, as he is kept very busy during the day calling his docket and making orders.

Marketmaster Joseph E. Potter, the board of public works' appointee, filed suit to prevent Charles Bell, the appointee of the republican legislative boards, from trying to assume the duties. The board of works appointee, Sewerage Inspector A. Franke has a similar suit to prevent A. Bundsman from trying to run that office, the latter being elected by the republican legislative authorities. The question for the judge to decide is whether the board of public works has the legal right to appoint the marketmaster and sewerage inspector, or the legislative authorities.

ANXIOUS BENCH OF SALOONISTS

UNDERSTOOD THAT NUMBER OF LICENSES WILL BE PROTESTED.

Some of the Proprietors Have Not Been Running Places Agreeable to the Public.

It is understood that quite a number of the saloonkeepers are on the "anxious bench" awaiting developments at tomorrow night's session of the new incoming council, which during meeting takes up the question of granting licenses for the parties to run saloons during 1907. It is said that some of the proprietors have not been running places strictly within the law, and have allowed boys to come in their places to buy liquor, have permitted disorderly crowds to hang around, and otherwise violate the law. These proprietors are a little uneasy for fear their application for a renewal of their old license will be adversely acted on, which would compel the owners to close up their places of business.

A number of petitions, it is understood, will be before the council tomorrow, entering a protest against certain applications being granted.

Seventy saloonists had put up their money yesterday, while tomorrow the balance will do likewise, as no license is acted upon or application received until it is shown the money has been paid into the public treasury.

NEW SCHOOL TRUSTEES TAKE CHARGE TOMORROW

IT IS THOUGHT THAT ANTHONY LIST WILL BE ELECTED PRESIDENT, AND EITHER PETER BECHENBACH OR WILLIAM T. BYRD MADE SECRETARY—THE PERSONNEL OF THE NEW BODY IS FOUR REPUBLICANS AND EIGHT DEMOCRATS—PROBABLE THAT NEW BODY WILL HAVE TO FILL VACANCIES CREATED BY SOME OF THEIR NUMBER IMMEDIATELY RESIGNING AND REFUSING TO QUALIFY.

The new school board goes in to-morrow evening when the first meeting of the incoming board will be held at the assembly chamber in the Washington building on West Broadway. Until then it will not be known who is to be elected as president and secretary, but it is understood that Anthony List will occupy the presiding chair, and either Peter J. Bechenbach or William T. Byrd made secretary. The new board will meet right after the outgoing trustees wind up what little business is before them for disposal.

The board that has been in during 1906 is as follows:

First Ward—Henry Gallman and William Karnes.

Second Ward—Harry Williamson and B. T. Davis.

Third Ward—W. H. Pitcher and Anthony List.

Fourth Ward—U. S. Walston and Peter Bechenbach.

Fifth Ward—William T. Byrd and Louis Petter.

Sixth Ward—J. S. Troutman and H. Morris.

Gallman, Williamson, Pitcher, Bechenbach, Petter and Troutman, are the old members who go out to-morrow night, their term of two years coming to a close at that time for five of them, and the fourteen months term for Bechenbach, who is filling out an unexpired term of that length. The democrats elected to take their places are J. W. Maxwell from the first ward, Ashley Robertson of the Second ward, Harry Clements of the Third ward, George Moore of the Fourth ward, Wm. Byrd and Albert Metcalfe of the Fifth ward and Dow Watson of the Sixth ward. Byrd the first of last year went in for a two years' term, but disqualified in January by becoming a deputy county clerk, the law prohibiting any person from holding two public positions at the same time. He was then chosen to fill out his disqualified term until the first of this year, when Metcalfe goes in to remain until January 1908. Last November the people elected Byrd for two more years, commencing to-morrow, to succeed Petter. The 1906 trustees who hold through 1907 are Karnes, Davis, List, Walston and Morris. This makes the new board, assuming charge to-morrow as follows:

First Ward—Karnes and Maxwell.

Second Ward—Davis and Robertson.

Third Ward—List and Clements.

Fourth Ward—Walston and Moore.

Fifth Ward—Byrd and Metcalfe.

Sixth Ward—Morris and Watson.

This makes eight democrats in the board and four republicans, Karnes, Walston, List and Morris being of the latter political faith, and the others democrats.

When Pitcher, whose term would close to-morrow, moved to Chicago several months ago his place thereby became vacant, and Frank B. May, not a trustee, was named secretary to act until the incoming board chooses someone to-morrow night to fill that place. The secretary does not necessarily have to be a member of the board.

Watson, the new trustee from the Sixth ward, and Moore, the new one from the Fourth ward, will not serve in the board for their two years' term, commencing to-morrow.

term, commencing to-morrow. Watson will qualify and immediately resign and let the board elect some democrat to succeed him. It is not thought Moore will even qualify, and if he does not Bechenbach continues in the body, as Moore was named to succeed Bechenbach, and the law is a member continues in office until his successor qualifies. Failure of Moore to take the oath of office continues Bechenbach in the service.

"ATTENTION" WHEN THE BAND PLAYS.

Army Regulations Regarding "The Star-Spangled Banner" Are Amended.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The army regulations bearing on the subject have been amended so as to provide that whenever the "Star Spangled Banner" is played by the band on a formal occasion at a military station, or at any place where persons belonging to the military service are present in their official capacity, all officers and enlisted men present shall stand at attention, and even if not in the ranks, they shall render the prescribed salute, the position of the salute being retained until the last note of the national air.

It is also provided that the same respect shall be observed toward the national air of any other country, when it is played as a compliment to official representatives of such country. Whenever the "Star Spangled Banner" is played as contemplated by the army regulations, the air will be played through once, without the repetition of any part, except such repetition as is called for by the musical score.

SCHOOL DIPLOMAS.

Superintendent Billington Holds Examinations on 25 and 26 of January.

Superintendent Samuel Billington of the county public schools, has set January 25 and 26 as the dates for holding examinations of parties who want common school diplomas. The tests will be conducted at his office in the county courthouse and also at the schoolhouse in Grahamville.

Those who pass the examination, are issued diplomas which show they have knowledge sufficient to enter the state normal college. The diplomas do not qualify anyone to teach in the county schools, as an examination of a different nature has to be undergone for teachership certificates.

Not the Eternal.

"Dresses and hats! Dresses and hats!" we exclaimed, in an effort to be wittily philosophical. "It is the eternal feminine."
"No," corrected our exact friend. "It is the external feminine."

HEADQUARTERS IN PADUCAH

MR. JOSEPH RANDALL WILL TRY TO GET THEM MOVED HERE.

EXPECTING OFFICIALS OF HIS COMPANY

COL. JAMES O'MARA RETURNS TO EVANSVILLE TO ENTER BUSINESS.

Mr. Frank Smedley Negotiating to Enter the Sock-Dealing Business—Commercial News.

Mr. Joseph A. Randall, the general manager of Kentucky for the Southwestern Sales company, is expecting several of the high officials of that concern in this city any day, and he hopes to get them to agree to the removal of state headquarters to Paducah from Louisville. This is the big company which handles townships in the West, and is backed by rich people who contracted with Mr. Randall, the railroad engineer, to handle the business in this state.

The parties expected here are Secretary I. N. Ward and General Manager E. A. Hill of St. Louis, and even if Mr. Randall cannot prevail on them to move headquarters here from Louisville, he will arrange for a local representative to be in the Paducah field all the time.

The company is capitalized at $500,000 and incorporated under the laws of Dakota, but has the main offices in St. Louis. The concern has secured control of many acres of ground at Hampton, Indian Territory, and are selling it off in town lots, much of the property having already gone, while the balance is fast finding a market. Hampton will be the city in which will be installed the big machine shops and division headquarters by the Kansas City, Loton and Pacific railway, which is the old Canadian Pacific that has recently changed hands.

Mr. Randall takes charge of the Kentucky business at a handsome compensation and his friends everywhere wish him great success, as it seems his concern is a good thing for investors. Before taking the management for this state he purchased a large share of stock in the company.

Goes Into Business.
Col. James O'Mara will leave today or tomorrow for his former home in Evansville, Ind., to enter business for himself, and with him he carries the wishes of all for prosperity.

Mr. O'Mara came here last winter and took the management of the Palmer cafe, which flourished under his supervision. He resigned two weeks ago and after taking a short rest he needed, he now goes back to his old home to go into business for himself.

Stock Business.
Mr. Frank Smedley, the former marketmaster, is preparing to enter the stock handling business, if he can successfully negotiate a deal he now has on hand in this regard. He is a thorough stockman and could not help but do well at this vocation.

Moved His Office.
Judge D. G. Park has moved his office into the rooms occupied until the first of this year by Drs. Bass and Stewart, beside the Palmer, on Broadway.

General Exodus.
Today and tomorrow there will be a general exodus of traveling men for the road, after remaining in the city for two weeks spending the holidays. Some made short trips last week, but the general leaving takes place this week and hundreds take to their territory again.

New Drug House.
Kolb Bros. expect to get their new wholesale drug house on Third street open for business this week.

New Undertaker.
Mr. J. W. Twyman of Hopkinsville has arrived here to take the position of assistant manager for the City of Paducah undertaking establishment of South Third street. He is an old undertaker of many years' experience and goes with a good house.

Harrison Street 100 Foot Lot.

JANUARY TERM BEGINS TOMORROW

JUDGE W. M. REED CONVENES SEVEN WEEKS' SESSION OF COURT.

FIRST WEEK DEVOTED TO CALLING DOCKET

MEYER-SCHMID-CLARK COMPANY SUES J. A. MEADOWS FOR $106.50.

Judge R. T. Lightfoot Opens His Quarterly Court Tomorrow Morning With a Crowded Docket.

Judge William Reed at 8:30 tomorrow morning will mount the bench at the court house and open the January session of civil court which continues in session for about seven weeks, and during which term many actions of importance come up for trial. The judge devotes the first week to making orders and hearing motions preliminary to trial of the different suits. The Monday following tomorrow he will empanel the petit jury and start hearing the actions. He continues at this until all the jury cases are finished with, when the judge then dismisses the jurors and devotes the remainder of the session to hearing personally the other litigation.

Suit on Account.
The Meyer-Schmid-Clark Grocery company yesterday filed suit in the circuit court against J. A. Meadows for $106.50 claimed due for groceries plaintiff sold defendant.

Quarterly Tribunal.
Judge R. T. Lightfoot yesterday completed getting in shape the docket for quarterly court, which he opens tomorrow morning, and hears during this week. The cases on the docket are unusually large as compared to recent previous months.

County Clerk's Office.
Rev. J. R. Henry of the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church has been granted a license by the county clerk entitling the divine to perform marriage ceremonies.

The Glenwood Realty company has sold to A. H. Kimberling, for $100, property on Twenty-third between Lindsey and Kruger streets. The deed was recorded yesterday with the clerk.

Property on Bridge street was bought by Hiram Smedley from E. D. Thurman for $20.

Samuel J. Billington bought from Frank Billington, for $1050, land in the county.

Ernest Lackey purchased from the Glenwood Realty company, for $200, property on Twenty-third between Lindsey and Kruger streets.

Licensed to Marry.
Wedding licenses were issued to the following by the clerk, P. P. Lawrence, aged 20, and Beulah Thweatt, aged 18, of the county; J. D. Overstreet and Maggie Simpson, legal age, of the county.

A colored couple got a license—Robert Brown, aged 33, and Anna Alexander, aged 33, of the city.

Constable Shelton yesterday afternoon closed on the photograph establishment of James Solar, on South Third street near Broadway, on judgments gotten against him by Chicago firms. The constable now has charge of the place, which will be sold under the hammer, unless Solar bonds it out, or pays off the judgment.

Some weeks since the Kramer Photo company got judgment for $107 against Solar money due for material sold the Paducah photographer, while the Kohner firm got judgment for $70 about the same time. Solar never paid off the amounts and yesterday attachments were gotten out and his place closed by the constable.

Attention Veterans.

Members of James T. Walbert camp of Confederate veterans will meet tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock at the City Hall to arrange for observance of the 100th anniversary of the birth of General Robert E. Lee.

By order
R. J. BARBER, Comdr.

John Drew on Drawing Power.
A fellow actor was the subject of discussion at the Players club not long ago.

"He is perfectly devoted to that blunder," so Mr. Drew was informed. "His family think it is a case of hypochondria."

"Seems more like chemical attraction," said the great actor thoughtfully.—Lippincott's.

WEDDING IN LION'S DEN

To be married in a den of lions is a most unusual and peculiar wedding. Nevertheless, such was the experience of Miss Mae Felton and Mr. Frederick Gandereske, a young couple of Saginaw, also Miss Emma Lodona and Mr. Jacob Hart of Cedar Rapids, Ia., says the Saginaw Evening News.

To the above item might be added "Senor Cardona" of Spain, referee, with two full-sized lions from Africa as seconds, one in the corner of the blushing bride and one in the corner of the groom.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by the opera orchestra, the most sensational wedding ever witnessed in this city took place in a cage of lions at the local vaudeville theater last evening, after the first performance of the evening. The entire seating capacity of the house was sold out early on Wednesday and to accommodate the rest of the disappointed crowds, it was announced that a repetition of the wedding scene would be enacted at the second show. A special platoon of police was sent by the chief of police to keep the crowd in order and their services was in constant demand.

After the closing of the usual lion act Senor Cardona, who had made special preparations for the wedding, changed his customary uniform of green and gold to a semi-dress uniform of dark blue, drove two of the most savage lions into their cages and arranged the stage for the ceremony.

Two of the largest lions were made to take positions on pedestals, the wedding march commenced, and the bridesmaids and best man were ushered into the cage. Following came the bride in white silk and bridal veil, and then the groom. Then Judge Nugent entered the cage without a tremor visible to the expectant audience, and the party was arranged along the back of the large steel cage with Senor Cardona in front with a watchful eye upon the wondering beasts. The ceremony was an impressive one, and when the two were pronounced man and wife, the groom gave his wife a resounding kiss, and she snuggled up to him as if there were no lions or audiences of 500 people within twenty-three miles. Senor Cardona wanted to kiss the bride, but the bridegroom objected, fearing evidently, that one of the lions might want to follow his example.

How to Look Slim.

If you wish to look slim don't dress in white or light-colored materials.

Shun all large patterns. Stripes are more becoming than spits or checks, but narrow, not broad stripes should be worn. Choose a material the pattern of which runs in perpendicular lines.

Short skirts are still very becoming; flowing draperies, on the other hand, give grace.

A long, central line of trimming from throat to hem adds a certain height; so does a single flounce at the foot of the skirt.

Many frills should be avoided.

A tight-fitting gown is never becoming to a stout figure, and even in summer a chiffon or lace scarf should be worn; it has a softening effect.

Defrauding the Waiter.

In a Parisian cafe an American ordered a hors d'oeuvre, sole, agneau pre sale, artichoke said, peche Melba, and so on and when the waiter brought him a bill for 30 francs he paid it like a man. After his change was brought he counted it and pushed a franc toward the waiter for a tip. But the man, pushing back the franc, said in gentle reproach:

"Pardon, monsieur, but that is the counterfeit franc."—Argonaut.

Jamestown Exposition At Glance

Purpose: To commemorate the first permanent settlement of English-speaking people in America, at Jamestown, Va., April 26, 1607.

Exposition company's headquarters: Norfolk, Va.

Military, naval, historic, educational, industrial and commercial in character.

Located on the shores of Hampton Roads, near Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News, Va.

To be opened April 26, 1907, 12 m., by the president of the United States; closes November 30.

Twenty-five exhibit palaces, including special buildings and pavilions, in addition to government and state buildings.

Grounds comprise more than 400 acres and two miles of water front, with a fine beach.

Site is within twenty minutes' ride of principal cities of Tidewater Virginia, with a combined population of more than 250,000, and reached either by trolley or steamer.

Six great trunk lines of railroads and twenty six lines of steamships will land visitors within easy access of the grounds.

The greatest naval display ever witnessed in the world, comprising warships from nearly every foreign power.

International military encampment in which troops of foreign countries will participate with those of the United States in a series of drills, maneuvers, etc.

Industrial exhibits will show the progress of the world during three centuries.

Will be a historical and educational study of America from its first settlement.

Greatest collection of historic papers, relics, etc., ever assembled.

More members of royalty of different countries will attend than ever assembled in peace or war.

The adjacent country contains more points of historical interest than any section of the United States.

These great nations of the world will participate either with warships, detachment of troops or civil delegations; Great Britain, Germany, Russia, France, Japan, Italy, Switzerland, Denmark, Venezuela, Mexico, Costa Rica, Belgium, Guatemala, Argentina Republic, Haiti, while others will make extensive industrial and technical displays.

Naval and military displays and exposition buildings will represent a money value of more than $300,000,000.

The prevailing style of architecture for all buildings will be of the colonial period.

Attractions will include: Unique and gorgeous night harbor illuminations; international yacht races, in which the countries of the world will participate; races of dirigible airships and military balloons of different nations; exhibitions of life-saving service work; two grand piers extending into Hampton Roads with light towers and wireless telegraphy equipment.

Site faces Hampton Roads, the most desirable harbor in the world.

Largest military parade ground in the world; a great living picture of war with all its enticing splendors.

International races of submarine warships, and the largest motor boat regatta ever held.

Great museum of war relics from all nations and all ages.

Canoe trail two miles long and twelve feet wide runs through romantic section of grounds.

"The warpath," covering more than a mile, will be devoted to original and novel amusement features.

Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News and other adjacent cities afford ample and excellent accommodations, together with numerous boarding and lodging houses, cafes, floating hotels, "inside inn," etc.

Reverence for Laws and Judges

It is the custom in the Star-Chronicle office to ignore anonymous correspondents, says that paper. Ordinarily, the man who is ashamed or afraid to put the brand of his own name upon the creation of his own brain, is beneath notice. For once, however, the editor is going to violate this rule and print this letter:

"St. Louis, Jan. 1.
"Editor Star-Chronicle—I enjoy the editorials in your paper. In ninety-nine times out of an hundred I agree with them. But now and then I notice a tendency on your part to attack the law and its authorized interpreters, the judges of our courts. In these days of socialism, anarchism and other 'isms' that strike at the root of our republic, and in these hours of frenzied attack upon vested interests, I regret to find my favorite—and otherwise square deal—paper on the radical side. LAW-ABIDER."

Without dwelling upon the object of "LawAbider," made plain in his deprecating attacks upon "vested interests" the Star-Chronicle insists that it has never attacked any law. It has denounced the injustice of some laws, but it has demanded their enforcement, even while fighting for their repeal. Often, however, it has attacked and exposed the unfaithful judge.

Men make the laws, men are fallible; therefore, there always will be unjust laws. Men interpret laws; men are dishonest; therefore laws always will be maladministered and misinterpreted. The very safety of the people depends upon the absolute fairness of the law's administration. Publicity is the strongest weapon against a crooked judiciary.

But opinions of men really great in history are valuable. Charles Sumner, the great abolition lawyer and statesman of Massachusetts, was such a man. Here is what Charles Sumner had to say about that hush of those who commit crimes in the name of the law—"reverence for judges": "I am too familiar with the history of judicial proceedings to regard judges with any superstitious reverence. Judges are but men; and in all ages have shown a full share of human frailty. Alas! alas! the worst crimes of history have been perpetrated under their sanction. The blood of martyrs and of patriots, crying from the ground, summons them to judgment."

"It was a judicial tribunal which condemned Socrates to drink the fatal hemlock, and which pushed the Savior herefoot over the pavement of Jerusalem, bending beneath the cross. It was a judicial tribunal which, against the testimony and remembrance of her father, condemned the fair Virginia as a slave—which arrested the teachings of the great apostle to the Gentiles, and sent him in bonds from Judea to Rome. It was a judicial tribunal which, in France, during the long reign of her monarchs, lent itself to be the instrument of every tyranny, as during the brief reign of terror it did not hesitate to stand forth the unyielding accessory of the unyielding guillotine.

"Ay, it was a judicial tribunal in England, surrounded by all forms of law, which sanctioned every despotism of Henry the Eighth, from the unjust divorce of his queen to the beheading of Sir Thomas Moore—which lighted the fires of persecution that glowed at Oxford and Smithfield over the cinders of Latimer, Ridley and John Rogers—which, after elaborate argument, upheld the fatal tyranny of ship money against the patriot resistance of John Hampden—which, in defiance of justice and humanity, sent Sidney and Russell to the block—which persistently enforced the laws of conformity that our Puritan fathers persistently refused to obey, and afterwards, with Jeffreys on the bench, crimsoned the pages of English history with massacre and murder, even the blood of innocent women.

"Ay, it was a judicial tribunal in our own country, surrounded by all forms of law, which hung witches at Salem—which affirmed the constitutionality of the stamp act. I repeat, judges are but men.

"No art can afford to do an act of wrong. Its business is justice; and when under any apology, it ceases to do justice, it loses those titles to reverence otherwise so willingly bestowed.

"There are instances of great magistrates openly declaring disobedience to laws against common right and reason," and their names are mentioned with gratitude in the history of jurisprudence. There are other instances of men holding the balance and the sword, whose names are gathered in a volume as 'atrocious judges.'"

What to Teach a Girl.

Teach her to dress for health and comfort as well as for appearance.

Teach her how to darn stockings, sew on a button and mend a glove.

Teach her to say "No" and stick to it, or "Yes" and mean it.

Teach her to make her the neatest room in the house.

Teach her to have nothing to do with intemperate or dissolute young men.

Teach her to regard the morals and habits, and not money, in selecting her associates.

Teach her that music, drawing and painting are real accomplishments in the house, and not to be neglected if there be time and money for their use.

The water that gets into the milk of human kindness is not the water of life.

Capacity for heaven depends on the creation of happiness here.

There is no service of the real with-out recognition of the ideal.

BE SYMPATHETIC AND EARNEST

(By Beatrice Fairfax.)

Sympathy is the most lovable quality possessed by woman.

No matter how plain of face she may be, if she has sympathy she wins love.

She need not be clever, for though people admire cleverness they do not love it.

Of course it is possible to be pretty and clever and sympathetic all at the same time, and then a woman is irresistible; but if she can have, but one of the three qualities sympathy is the most valuable.

To begin with, the sympathetic woman is a good listener. She puts her entire interest into your tale of joy or of woe, and for the time being your cause is her cause.

She does not preach, nor say, "I told you so." She listens, and says, "I know just how you feel," and sends you away comforted by the thought that in your place she might have done just as you did.

She knows enough not to laugh at the wrong time, and that's a very important thing to know if you want to win love.

The sympathetic woman's life is not always one of roses, for her friends, being sure of her sympathy, have no scruples over making great demands on it. They expect her to be unflinching with advice, comfort and appreciation of their virtues.

All children love her; their unerring instincts teach them that she is their friend and protectress.

Men like to talk to her; she does not pretend to know more than they do themselves; she is content to listen appreciatively.

She is earnest as well as sympathetic, and earnestness is a charming quality.

Have you ever talked to a person who laughed at everything and turned every side of life into a joke? It is a most tiresome quality.

No one wants to make a continuous performance of solemnity, but at the same time no one wants to make it one huge joke.

There is a happy medium, and we all have moods when a laugh at the wrong time jars us most painfully.

If I were advising a girl to choose three qualities to cultivate I would say, "Choose sympathy, earnestness and simplicity of manner."

If a girl strives to be a good listener she will find it easy to make hosts of friends. People always enjoy talking of their own woes, adventures, etc.

But artificial sympathy won't do. It must be genuine, must come from the heart.

Nothing artificial makes any true or lasting impression, and in love or sympathy it is especially unreliable.

Don't try to be clever or impressive or imposing. Be content to be simple, sympathetic and true. In that way you will win and hold the love of your fellow creatures.

FORECASTS FOR JANUARY BY BLISS

The year 1906 has been good to us in many respects. He gave us 143,000,000 bushels more corn, wheat, oats and rye than did the year 1905. The crops of this country, not including cotton, are estimated this year to be worth $2,655,000,000. If we can keep John D. Rockefeller from getting hold of this vast sum of money it will help us out wonderfully. Like all previous years, the year 1906 did not distribute his blessings equally to all.

Some had plenty, some had not, some bewailed their luckless lot. Some rejoiced in velvet clothes, some in rags were filled with woes. Some wore silks and some for jeans, some ate honey, some ate beans. Some had cash to throw away, some there were too poor to pay. Some rode in their automobile while some have walked and skinned their heels.

The month of January will be an eventful one. On the 8th President Roosevelt will send a special message to congress consisting of 25,000 words urging stringent legislation to prevent throwing of spit-balls in the public schools. On the 12th he will send another message calling attention to the prevalence of ingrowing toe nails and its effect on the military service. On the 15th he will transmit a message of 50,000 words to congress urging the establishment of a system of rewards to encourage the twin and triplet habit. On the 20th he will recommend crossing the hydraulic ram with the common Merinos to improve the breed of sheep.—C. W. Bliss in Montgomery County News.

Many a man is missing a spiritual meal by choking on the letter.

The more discontented a man is with others the better satisfied he will be with himself.

We become slaves to habit by counting an occasional indulgence as a demonstration of liberty.

Some men would not recognize their own religion if they met it alone.

How The "Soccer" Game Is Played

Sport of Association Football Not Known Here.

What do you know about "soccer" football? Do you think you could tell when the right fullback had the ball in touch and would you know what an outside left would do if he were penalized for knocking on? Of course not. But do you know that "soccer" or association football is the oldest of all English national sports and that it was played by the Greeks several hundred years before Columbus discovered America?

If your field of sports has been confined to games you have seen played in Louisville you have never seen an association football game. And yet the game has been played in St. Louis, Chicago, Denver and in many other cities in this part of the country for many years. "Soccer" football is one of the simplest games known, and yet it is one of the most interesting sports in the catalogue. It is the real football. It has been advertised as "football with the feet," and this original announcement has done much to arouse interest in the game.

"Soccer" is played on a field resembling the Rugby field. Goals are elected at each end. The goal posts are eight yards apart and have a crossbar eight feet from the ground. The object of the game is to kick the round ball, twenty-seven inches in circumference, through the opening formed by the posts and the crossbar.

Eleven men compose a team. The positions are outside left, inside left, center, inside right, outside right, left halfback, center halfback, right halfback, left fullback, right fullback and goal keeper. The first five men named are on the offensive, the others form the defense. The "lefts" stay on the left side of the field, the "rights" on the right side, and the center stays in the middle. The ball is advanced by kicking it. It cannot be touched with the hands by any players except the goal keepers. The ball is stopped by knocking it down with the body, usually the head and chest. The game is divided into halves of forty-five minutes each and there is never time taken out except for a free kick or a goal. If a player is injured no one can take his place, he either keeps on playing or his team plays with ten men.

One team kicks off to the other and the ball is kicked continually until a goal is made. No player can use his hands on an opponent. In fact, with the exception of the goal keepers, no player is ever allowed to use his hands during the game. The ball is "passed" from one player to another by kicking and the men become so accurate with the feet that often several members of a team take the ball the whole length of the field by kicking it back and forth to each other. No one is allowed to carry the ball.

When a foul is made by any player who uses his hands or trips an opponent or otherwise disobeys the rules, the opposing side is given a free kick at the goal from a point twelve yards in front of it. The goal keeper stands in front of the goal and is permitted to stop the ball with a free kick and few goals are ever scored by this means.

The game is never slow. It is one continual run for every player and as a wind developer it is a wonder. However, few of the "soccer" players train for the game. Fast runners are seldom useful. The rough work in the game is in bucking a man away from the ball. This is done with the chest or shoulder.—Courier-Journal.

Tar-Heel Brilliance

The elegant home of that sparkling little jewel, Miss Elsie Moore, who is as pretty as a picture and as bright as an icicle and as pure as a dewdrop and as sweet as a flower, was a sparkling scene of radiant loveliness last night, for this beautiful little maiden and her handsome and magnificently formed sister had invited a number of their friends to assemble in honor of the beautiful and bewitching Miss Neda Taylor and the charming and fascinating Miss Rosalie Setzer, who are now dispensing their charms and witticisms in Wilson, and making so many hearts drunk with the inebriating potations of their intoxicating graces.

It was indeed a scene of rare loveliness, for many of Wilson's brightest gems were there in all their richest luster, and were rivaling in their brilliancy the exquisite beamings of those resplendent jewels in whose honor this delightful entertainment was given. As said above, it was a brilliant scene of joyous festivity, for the lovely faces of our glorious little maidens were as radiant as the pure and stainless gleamings of a crystal rubbed over in the glittering polish of shimmering sunbeams, and burnished with the dazzling strikes of quivering lightning.

And as these merry maidens, with sparkling eyes and beaming faces and musical laughter, moved to and fro like symphonies of grace, they poured into that channel of enjoyment a stream of silver light, and tinted each ripple in that joyous current with a sunbeam of brightest cheer.

And we fancy that as our handsome and gallant young lads looked down into the radiant depths of such sparkling eyes—eyes whose faintest glimmer would make the glistening skies of blooming midnight pale with envy torches burn—yea, we fancy that these young boys felt that Cupid had come to their young hearts on a mission as sweet as odors come when vernal breezes and passionate sunbeams woo and kiss the budding flowers and make them breathe the fragrance of springtime's richest bowers.—Wilson, N. C. Times.

BROKEN BACK MAN IS GONE

PERRY CAMPBELL AND FAMILY HAVE GONE TO OWENSBORO.

The Charity Club Yesterday Closed a Three Weeks' Service With Excellent Record.

Secretary Jap Toner of the Charity club reports that Perry Campbell and his family have left this city and gone to Owensboro. Campbell was the man with a broken back who had to be carried around in a steel frame to hold his injured body erect. He and his family took up their abode near the Sixth street Island creek bridge on coming here several weeks ago, and Mr. Toner wanted Campbell to enter the poor farm, but he positively refused, the family preferring to exist by begging and off charity.

It is three weeks yesterday since the club resumed its noble work, and during that time 145 orders have been given poor people for groceries at cost of $155. This does not include the clothing given away. Donations have been made the club as follows, during that length of time:

Mrs. Sol Dreyfuss clothing; Mrs. M. K. Scott, clothing; Mrs. Hal Corbett, clothing; Mrs. R. B. Phillips, clothing; Mrs. J. Wallerstein, clothing; Mrs. James Weille, toys; Mrs. George C. Wallace, toys and clothing; Mrs. Overbey, clothing and toys; Mrs. Keiler, clothing; Mrs. Rowland, clothing and toys; Mrs. Frank L. Scott, clothing; Mrs. Herman Wallerstein, clothing; Mrs. Sherrill, toys and candy; Henry Weil, clothing; Belle Weil, clothing; Mrs. Lack, clothing; Covington Bros., bucket of candy; Baker & Eccles, candy; Livingston Bros., nuts; Louis Clark, fruit; Englebert & Bryant, fruit and candy; Jake Biederman, groceries; L. B. Ogilvie & Co., clothing; Cochran, shoes; West Kentucky Coal company, Telephone company, Paducah Traction company, tickets; Paducah Brewery company, $25; Hummel Bros. $5; city, $100; Ferguson & Palmer, 100 loads of wood.
